WHY IS THE PRODUCT DANGEROUS?

Safety investigations have revealed that the garments listed above contain an excessively high concentration of plasticizers (DEHP & DBP). Excessive exposure to these substances can be harmful to health.

However, further research shows that exposure under normal wear conditions is very limited. The levels are well below the EFSA's health-based safety thresholds. Therefore, there is no significant risk to consumers who have already worn the items

WHAT TO DO?

Do you own one of these items?

1. Stop wearing it
2. Return the product via:
 - An America Today store (for both online and in-store purchases)
 - Via PostNL (online purchases only – register your return first via service@america-today.com)

REMEDIES FOR CONSUMERS

You will receive a full refund or may choose a replacement product of equal value. A receipt is not required.
